

Immortalising Purgatory

Mental Cruelty

I was born into a place of tormented souls and splitting worlds
Nearly missed the abyss, still crawling through dust
Immortalising Purgatory torment of impurity

Caged and mauled, tortured alive
I'm the end of mortality
Existing in shadows
Cleansing winds of fire restrict my existence, while I'm trapped
Hidden signs in the discrepancy we call life

How could you survive with all these lies?
Let me take my first breath in between the living and the dead

Shadows are forming to shackles
Tied up in a tragedy

Bringing the last light beneath the surface of this hell
No grace but facing death
What is alive, what is an illusion?
Nothing will survive but eternal delusion

Dark blood swarms out of my eyes
Nihilistic visions upon evil nightmares
Die for nothing, kill for God

Blackened shadows shroud my mind
And drag out what's been forming inside
Reborn through soul pollution
Remade in absolution
Bow down to your new leader
Embedded in my skin is the mark of God

Disintegrated towers of rust welcome me
In the middle of wretched status
Of a long lost immanence
The transcendent hypocrite awaits me
I am free of this enslavement
I am free of this life
