

Souls rising up to heaven
Led by the giants, their torches covering the night sky
Eerie voices shouting down tremble up the horizon
Wrapping the evening glow in countless shades of sorrow
Fearing their light go hide yourself

Do not look back
Escape nearing disaster that's building up
Above the trees

Rushing through
Shadows of the night covering this dark path
Heartbeats to the neck

Gasping breath
Air from the lungs is stuck in my throat
A taste of blood

Gazing up
Green, red, purple lights flicker across the sky
Revealing my trace

Dread to enrage the ancient spirits
As they will reign according to their almighty wrath

Nordlys, hear the sky whistling
Draw my wrath upon you
They light up the firmament
Nordlys shining omen of bane
Restless spirits
Phantoms will reach down to slice off your head

Be afraid
Alerting the ghosts for your punishment
Never dare to speak

Valkyries
Attempting to rise again for revenge
Behold their war cry

Vibrantarcs
Shine over the arctic ominously
Dance with the moonlight

Never dare to whistle wave or sing again
Warriors on horseback they'll be gorgeous, deadly, winged and their desire
To erase thy hope with their sword of fire

Dread to enrage the ancient spirits
As they will reign according to their almighty wrath

The stars will align for your fate will be decided by the servants of Yggdrasil

Nordlys, hear the sky whistling
Draw my wrath upon you
They light up the firmament

Nordlys shining omen of bane
Restless spirits
Phantoms will reach down to slice off your head

Crimson presence
Enlight the starry heaven
Only answered
With whispers by the living

Giants fire up their wooden torches
Leading the souls of the deceased over the abyss

I am fire, bringer of doom
I am fire, portent of war
I am fire, light up the heaven
I am fire, bringer of dawn, son of the moon
