

Chasing The Moon

Mereba

Loving you
Is like the sun chasing the moon
Cause you can never catch up to me
And I can never catch up to you (Yeah, uh)

Sweetheart, it's been awhile
Flashback I saw a flash of your smile
I used to write my first name next to your last Caught up sneaking looks behind our books but
You always told me dream bigger
And only celestial skies were my limit
And I would prove you wrong bullshit is something vicious
'Til you did what you did and my kin got convicted

I seal the envelope and kiss it
You would be elated to see me up on the stages
And you say I'm the greatest and I say I've hardly made it
And you say that its written and that I wouldn't debate it

Lifetime is one rotation
There may be millions for each soul so be patient
Got me wandering through the corners of my mind
And it's you that I find every time, every time

Loving you is like the sun chasing the moon
Cause you can never catch up to me
And I can never catch up to you

Loving you
