

I Wonder What She'll Think About Me Leaving

Merle Haggard

I wonder what she'll think about me leaving
Wish I could be there hidden if she cries
'Cause leaving really won't be worth my trouble
If I can see the teardrops fill her eyes.

I wonder what she'll think about me leaving
Wish I could see her standing all alone
If she hurts at all I'd like to know it happened
I wonder if she'll even know I'm gone.

Wish I could be there standing by her window
When she finds the note about me being gone
I'm almost sure her coldness never changes
But still I'd like to know it if I'm wrong.

I wonder what she'll think about me leaving
Wish I could see her standing all alone
If she hurts at all I'd like to know it happened
I wonder if she'll even know I'm gone.

I wonder if she'll notice that I'm gone...
