

I Wonder Where I'll Find You At Tonight

Merle Haggard

I wonder if I'll find you in some honky-tonking bar
I wonder if I'll find the hidden place you parked the car
I wonder if I'll find you holding someone tight
Oh, I wonder where I'll find you at tonight

Walking is not the fastest way I know to make a town
But I can't afford no taxi driver driving me around
And now I'm slowly walking towards another neon light
Oh, I wonder where I'll find you at tonight

It's almost closing time and there's one honky-tonk to go
Been checking out Joe's Coffee Shop, the only place I know
There's got to be a reason why you're staying out of sight
Oh, I wonder where I'll find you at tonight

It's almost closing time and there's one honky-tonk to go
Been checking out Joe's Coffee Shop, the only place I know
There's got to be a reason why you're staying out of sight
I wonder where I'll find you at tonight
