Pray

Merle Haggard

Take your eyes off yourself, look at somebody else
And imagine how hard life could be
Count your blessings again, kiss the lips of your friend
And pray, and pray

And give God the glory for every good thing you do
There's others lesser than you
Get your mind off yourself, think of somebody else
And pray, and pray

And give God the glory for every good thing you do
There's others lesser than you
Get your mind off yourself, think of somebody else
And pray, and pray
