

What I've Been Meaning to Say

Merle Haggard

What I've been meaning to say is I need you all the time
I can't stand you being away, I've come to depend on your mind
You're my only friend in the world, you'd bend over backwards f or me
And I love you so little girl, that's what I've been meaning to say

And I should have kissed you and told you I missed you
And you're the best part of my day
And I should have told you I wanted to hold you
That's what I've been meaning to say
That's what I've been meaning to say

And you're the best part of my day
And I should have told you I wanted to hold you
That's what I've been meaning to say
That's what I've been meaning to say
