Ooh

I learn about life through your life
I learn about touch through your hands
I learn about love through your heart
I learn to be kind where I can
```

But the window's still broken
It's starting to freeze
And the only thing I ever wanted
Is scattered in the breeze

- I learn about strength through your strength
 I learn about hope in your eyes
 I learn about taste through your lips
 I learn about trust through your lies
- But the cuts are still open
 They're starting to bleed
 It's the only thing I ever wanted
 The only thing I need

Can you teach me to feel it?

I'll take it step by step so I never miss a thing Make me feel it

I'll get inside your head till you live inside me Teach me to feel it

I'll take it step by step so I never miss a thing Make me feel it

I'll get inside your head till you live inside me

I learn about life everlasting
I learn to contain your surprise
I learn about faith by believing
I learn about lust when it dies

And you're all I ever cared for Through all that I've done And the only thing that's not sewn up Are the lessons left undone

(repeat chorus to fade)
