

Barely Hanging On

Mest

Pray for me
Because I don't think I'll make it through
I have my issues, but so do you
Say you'll stay
And I'll do what you want me to
I'm broken watch their left to do

I keep running away, like all of this won't ever catch up to me
I keep playing the games that never let me get away

I'm barely hanging on
Are you hanging out with angels were you don't belong?
When you should be with me
Instead I hear the voices of the angels sing
What's the point of life
When in the end we always say goodbye

Scream, your name
I'm looking for someone to blame
Cause now I'll never be the same

I keep running away, like all of this won't ever catch up to me
I keep playing the games that never let me get away

I'm barely hanging on
Are you hanging out with angels were you don't belong?
When you should be with me
Instead I hear the voices of the angels sing
What's the point of life
When in the end we always say goodbye
How will I carry on
Never thought that I'd be here and that you'd be gone
Another memory
And now everything I see looks so differently
After all the pain and strife in life
We're only left saying goodbye

I'm barely hanging on
Are you hanging out with angels were you don't belong?
When you should be with me
Instead I hear the voices of the angels sing
What's the point of life
When in the end we always say goodbye
How will I carry on
Never thought that I'd be here and that you'd be gone
Another memory
And now everything I see looks so differently
What's the point of life
When in the end we always say goodbye
