

Numbers

Mest

I can't remember anything
So many questions stemming from this mess we're in
Just one more thing and we'll go (We'll hold our breath, open our eyes)
Let's watch the day fade in tonight
And let the stars come out

This is why I brought you here
Everything has come together
This is why I brought you here
The memories become so clear

You wear that disguise very well
Seems so familiar but I've seen this one before
So let's not waste words and lines
Just watch the stars come out tonight

This is why I brought you here
Everything has come together
This is why I brought you here
The memories become so clear
And into the night
Surrounded by stars
Now we can both start our lives
My one and only

It's not too late for us now
It's not too late no more disguises left to hide
Just one more time and we'll go
Just one more thing before we leave this all behind
Leave this all behind

This is why I brought you here
Everything has come together
This is why I brought you here
The memories become so clear
And into the night
Surrounded by stars
Now we can both start our live
My one and only

My only one
My only one

You and I will be all that remains
Until we're only one
You and I will be all that remains
Until we're only one