

Was It Worth It

Mest

When did you stop caring
The look that's on your face
Blaming everyone else
The past we can't erase
Now I'm so fucking scared
Why do I fucking care?
And now my biggest fear
Is that you'll leave this place

Was I the one that let you down?

The world's crashing down right now
Cause the time we have is quickly running out
All the years left me broken words unspoken
No, I don't deserve this
Feeling lost and worthless
Tell me was this worth it?
What's the purpose? Was this worth it?

Now I'm left, standing by watch you slowly given
The years you've wasted away it's hard to forgive
The one that taught me to love and taught me to care
Now I'm holding the hand of someone who's not there

How did Mommy's little monster turn out?

The world's crashing down right now
Cause the time we have is quickly running out
All the years left me broken words unspoken
No, I don't deserve this
Feeling lost and worthless
Tell me was this worth it?
What's the purpose? Was this worth it?

Watch your reality fading away, feeling so helpless
Nothing I can do or say
Your world has changed now everything looks so differently
You can't remember the last words you said
You can't remember the last thought in your head
You lost control when you let your mind go

The world's crashing down right now
Cause the time we have is quickly running out
All the years left me broken words unspoken
No, I don't deserve this
Feeling lost and worthless
Tell me was this worth it?
What's the purpose? Was this worth it?
Was this worth it?
What's the purpose? Was this worth it?
