

The Liar

Metal Law

I'm a notorious liar
I spin the greatest tales
I tell you all you want to hear
You'll believe in anything

I am a snake-oil salesman
I promise gold and wealth
Every day I make the hay
"Give me a chance", I'll say

Listen to me now
My stories are never true
Listen when I tell you
I'll turn your life around

I am the hand of the devil
You cannot see my face
I'm walking through my nice life
But my heart is in another place

There is darkness inside me
It's my own lonely hell
The lies that I tell come true
Can I believe myself?

Listen to me now
My stories are never true
Listen when I tell you
I'll turn your life around

Can't go on 'cause I know
Every day I'm only a fraud
Sick and tired of the fear
That someone might

It's time to lay down old habits
And become more than a shell
I'll say goodbye to the devil
Can't fake it, I'll make it

Listen to me now
My stories are never true
Listen when I tell you
I'll turn my life around
Hope never dies
It's never too late to try
Ending the tale
Of my life as a liar
