Heroes In Time

Metalite

Endless machinery, cables of light
Transferring all in our mind
Stories about good and bad things in life
Are stored in the system behind

Hardware of evil collecting our souls
Gathering all that we do
Keeping us captives, there's nowhere to hide
The system won't let us get through

Unknown places we find
The happiness leaving us blinded
Falling out of the sky
You never know that you're misguided

Freedom is the new word, flying like a free bird
We all think we're heroes in time
Blinded by the big man, we're all in the game plan
Something we don't understand

Going on forever, trying to be clever
Surveillance, they're watching us all
Look into the future, we live in the computer
Technology will be our fall

Liking and sharing, it's all in the plan
This is our chance to be seen
Creating a file with all of those things
Locks it up in a machine

Danger, warning alert
You cannot redo what you done in the past
Try to erase and rewind
We're all in the hands of the system behind
