

Nightmare

Metalite

Trapped in this nightmare I'm screaming your name
Hoping that someone can hear me
Blinded by darkness, alone in the rain it's insane
Can't get away

Cold winds of agony, passing through the air
A distant sound of voices, howling in despair
Moving and turning, the walls are closing in Frightened of what's happening
My sight is getting dimmed

Suddenly, a beacon lights up the sky
It's here to guide me, from this place before I die

Into the ashes, my body will resign
Desire of freedom helps me to hold the line
Running and hiding, the struggle to get away
Fear of the darkness in this great masquerade

Faith of life will never fall
But now, there's nothing left at all
