

Things Will Be Fine

Metronomy

I remember the first time that I felt this weight on me
Yeah, I was only fifteen
And just like the first time in that teenage misery
Yeah, I wish things were as easy

But I might save the day
Yeah, I might change the world
Things will be fine
Things will be fine

The sooner you tell someone, the better you will feel
So please, put your trust in me
As soon as you do, I'll say when I've made up my mind
But you know things will be fine

'Cause I might save the day
Yeah, I might change the world
And you could be the one
To drag me out this hole
Yeah, I might save the day
Yeah, I might change the world
But I need you the most
Yeah, I need you to hold

Things will be fine
Things will be fine
Things will be fine

Things will be fine
Things will be fine
Things will be fine

I try to forget that I was only your lover
