Reach

Mi6

you're looking for that, time that you said you're never going back because when you get there you'll get what you deserve and you're looking for that, time to find that everything that you want in life well, it's already right within your reach

but you can't see it so open your eyes open your mind to pass what's on the outside and you just might find a life to call your own a home away from home, call it what you've always wanted you think that i'm dead wrong, and this song is not fair pass judgement on me just cause i couldn't stand there with a smile to give, i took your smiles to heart and you're looking for that, time to find that

it's all within your reach

but i hope that you'll find, something more than the time you've wasted fighting all your rivals your hopes and your dreams are slipping away, they're slipping away
