

Sign of the Times

Miami Horror

Oh god, it's starting again
My mind is racing, will it ever end?
Times pass, what is it for?
I don't even recognise my face anymore

Ahhhh
When you can't stand the heat
Ahhhh
When you can't stand the heat

Sex pills, material things
I just can't tell if it's joy that they bring
Oh god, please make it stop
What we call progress I can't even keep up

It's a sign of the times
When you can't stand the heat
Just a sign of the times
When you can't stand the heat

I'm slowly losing my mind

Wake up, another day, uptight, afraid to let go
All the answers will we ever know?
What does it all mean?
I lost my reason to dream, no relief, self belief
Tossing and turning I can't get no sleep
I'm in far far too deep

One statement contradicts the facts
I'm losing focus don't know how to react
Oh god, I've done it again
I lost my patience and upset my friends
It's a sign of the times
When you can't stand the heat
Just a sign of the times
When you can't stand the heat

Oh just can't believe it
They told me everything would all work out
Now, they left me thinking
Is life designed just to leave us in doubt?

Just a sign of the times
When you can't stand the heat
I'm slowly losing my mind
When you can't stand the heat

So many contracts, debts, start ups, social media conflicts, home loans, cellular telephones, notifications, mindless traffic conditions, promotional violence at the expense of sanity, electronic mail, fan clubs, downloaded audio files, data roaming, pop up shops, it's madness, I can't stand the heat

I guess we'll never know (I guess we'll never know)
I guess we'll never know (I can't stand the heat)
I guess we'll never know (I guess we'll never know)
