

Kid's Song

Mic Christopher

How come your sister's in drag?
Where are the clothes that she had?
Well I've seen her of late
I think she put on some weight like a man
And how come that boy's not like me?
What colour me does he see?
Well they say that he's blue
I think he colours my room when he comes

But how comes we both go to schools
On different sides of the street?

How comes this girl that I knew?
Sometimes she don't look so good
Well her mom says it's flu
But she wears coats in the gym class at school

I tell her, I wanna be friends with you
Will you be friendly to me?

So how comes your sister's in drag?
And how comes some people get mad?
'Cause either red, green or blue
I think they colour my room when they come
Yeah either red, green or blue
I think they brighten my room when they come
