

Beautiful

Micah Tyler

Some days I know you see your face in the mirror
And your eyes are rest on every flaw
You try to hide and cover your imperfections
But you really don't feel better at all
Don't worry, don't worry

He already thinks you're beautiful
He loves you just the way you are
And nothing you can do
Could ever change His point of view
He already thinks you're beautiful

You're beautiful, you're beautiful
You're beautiful, you're beautiful

There's no mistakes in how He puts you together
Even when it's hard for you to see
No need to try and become somebody different
Only thing you got to do is believe

He already thinks you're beautiful
He loves you just the way you are
And nothing you can do
Could ever change His point of view
He already thinks you're beautiful

You're beautiful, you're beautiful
You're beautiful, you're beautiful

(You're beautiful) When you can see it
(You're beautiful) And when you can't
(You're beautiful) Oh, beloved, don't forget
(You're beautiful) At your weakest
(You're beautiful) And at your best
(You're beautiful) Oh, beloved, don't forget
(You're beautiful) Don't forget
(You're beautiful) Oh, don't forget

He already thinks you're beautiful
He loves you just the way you are
And nothing you can do
Could ever change His point of view
He already thinks you're beautiful
