

What If The Fire Was Fake

Micatone

What if the fire was fake
What if there's nothing at stake
And all the vows that we take
Are just words that shouldn't have been said
What if the fire was fake
And all the words that we say
And all the vows that we take
Are easy to break
Cause there's nothing at stake
We fell asleep in a fairytale sleep
Didn't wake for a hundred years
We said the words, the words weren't real
Now we woke up
Like the ashes that glow
Fighting the night
Shed a last light
Before they die
Like fireflies
Leading us astray
We lost our way In the dark
What if the fire was fake
What if there's nothing at stake
And all the vows that we take
Are just words that shouldn't have been said
What if the fire was fake
We're loosing grip
We're loosing speed
We swap our dreams for a little peace
Trading them in for a spark of ease
Trading our precious skin
For beads
What if the fire was fake
And all the words that we say
And all the vows that we take
Are easy to break
Cause there's nothing at stake
What if the fire was fake
What if there's nothing at stake
And all the vows that we take
Are just words that shouldn't have been said
What if the fire was fake
