

A World Turned Upside Down

Michael Card

Oh Lord, Oh my Lord
The time has come for turning
Oh Lord, take this world
Turn it upside down

Oh Lord, Oh my Lord
The time has come for turning
Oh Lord, take this world
Turn it upside down

The lame will walk and the deaf will talk
The time has come for turning
The blind will see and the slave be free
Turn it upside down

The rich man he will wail and moan
The time has come for turning
He'll take the mighty from their thrones
Turn it upside down

Oh Lord, Oh my Lord
The time has come for turning
Oh Lord, take this world
Turn it upside down

The poor will laugh and the beggar will sing
The time has come for turning
He'll feed the hungry with good things
And turn it upside down

Woe to the rich, woe to the free
Woe to the righteous ones who say they see
And blessed are the sufferers, to those who wail and mourn
The world is turning upside down and you can be reborn

Oh Lord, oh my Lord
The time has come for turning
Oh Lord, take this world
And turn it upside down

Oh Lord, Oh my Lord
The time has come for turning
Oh Lord, take this world
Turn it upside down
