

Good Day for a Good Day

Michael Franti & Spearhead

Why does everybody in the world seem so divided?
Why does everybody gotta hate each other, who decided?
If I took all the world's pride, and all the world's money
And wrapped it in a blanket and put it in a buggy,
Could you see that maybe that baby was just the same as you are?

You know it's never been easy
Every day for every body ain't breezy
And I hope you realize when you look into another person's eyes

You know today would be a very good day just to have a good day
You know today would be a very good day just to have a good day
With a little more love and a little more laughter
A little more good vibes, less disaster
You know today would be a very good day just to have a good day
All day long
All day long

Good days please come more often
Everybody's in the streets out coughin'
Smog in the air gonna send you to your coffin
Plastic everywhere down there with the dolphins
Everybody was born to a Momma
So everybody is connected like karma
So disconnect yourself from the drama
Everybody's trynna heal like trauma

You know it's never been easy
Every day for every body ain't breezy
And I hope you realize when you look into another person's eyes

You know today would be a very good day just to have a good day
You know today would be a very good day just to have a good day
With a little more love and a little more laughter
A little more good vibes, less disaster
You know today would be a very good day just to have a good day

And I say, Hey! Hey!
Put all of my troubles to the side
And I say, Hey! Hey!
Thank God that we're alive
And I say, Hey! Hey!
Put all of my troubles to the side
And I say, Hey! Hey!
Thank God that we're alive

You know today would be a very good day just to have a good day
You know today would be a very good day just to have a good day
With a little more love and a little more laughter
A little more good vibes, less disaster
You know today would be a very good day just to have a good day
All day

Day! Aye!
All all, all all, all day long

Day! Aye!

All all, all all, all day long

Day! Aye!

All all, all all, all day long

Day! Aye!

Today would be a very good day for a good day

Ha ha ha! For a good day

You know that

For a good day

Yeah we need one

For a good day

You got this!

For a good day
