

P.S. I Love You

Michael Franti & Spearhead

You know it's been a long time since I wrote anything by hand
My fingers been textin' every message I send
Oh it seems like we're growin' into more than just friends
And these kinda feelings deserve paper and pen

So I sit right down and I write you a letter
Close my eyes and I ask my maker
To help me find the words to say to you

And P.S. I love you
And all the things that you do
That make me believe that one and one makes me and you
And when I look in your eyes
I see again and again
That these kinda feelings deserve paper and pen
Although I might not find the words to say to you
Please know I wrote them all by hand to hand to you
And P.S. I love you
P.S. I love you

Yes I'd be a fool to ever let you pass by
And I'd be a liar if I said I wouldn't die
If there was a day we were not together
And this is the reason why I'm writin' you this letter

So I sit right down and I take my time
Close my eyes and I ask my maker
To help me find the words to say to you

And P.S. I love you
And all the things that you do
That make me believe that one and one makes me and you
And when I look in your eyes
I see again and again
That these kinda feelings deserve paper and pen
Although I might not find the words to say to you
Please know I wrote them all by hand to hand to you
And P.S.

You know it's been a long time since I wrote anything by hand
My fingers been textin' every message I send
Oh it seems like we're growin' into more than just friends
And these kinda feelings deserve paper and pen
Although I might not find the words to say to you
Please know I wrote them all by hand to hand to you
P.S. I love you
P.S. I love you
And all the things that you do
P.S. I love you
