

Sit Down And Shut Up

Michael Grimm

Sit down and shut up, it's enough
I don't wanna hear it no more

I said you're driving me insane
I'm getting tired of your delusions
You think you know about everything

Always talking about your life
I see why you're all alone
Giving everyone advice
Your voice is cutting me right through the bone

Don't wanna hear it no more
I said you're driving me insane
I'm getting tired of your delusions
You think you know about everything

You think that everyone wants to live their life and do the things that you do
When no one gives a damn about 'cha I wrote this song for you
Don't wanna hear it no more

See I'm a man with infinite patience
And you're testing me as far as I can go
The warning lights are flashing

You've got to sit down and shut up, it's enough
I don't wanna hear it no more, no no

I said you're driving me insane
I'm getting tired of your delusions
You think you know about everything

Always talking about your life
I see why you're all alone
Giving everyone advice
Your voice is cutting right through my bone

You've got to sit down and shut up, it's enough
I don't wanna hear it no more, no no...
