Two In Love

Michael Johnson

Two in love, life is worth living two in love, takes all your giving and you let it show and everyone knows when you are two in love Once in a while, life surprises you turns a gray day into blue the sun shines for you
Hold on tight, love is kite in the wind looking for wings
pulling the strings of your heart from the very start you were Two in love, holding one another two in love, making room for the other
and you let it show and everyone knows
Hold on tight, love is kite in the wind
looking for wings
pulling the strings of your heart
Two in love, life is worth living
and you let it show and everyone knows
