

The Other Side

Michael Marcagi

When the cold comes
Pushing down heavy on this town
And there's no one around
To keep out the sound

That is all in my head, no, it's all in my head
I'm holding it back 'til I'm lying in bed
That's when all the walls close in on me

The other side is where I wanna be
Leave your words underneath my feet
Leave these demons that haunt my street
I'll find my way out
And never look back

As the years go
You'll grow old before you're told to leave
I was born just to drown
So, bury my dreams

'Cause it's all in my head, no, it's all in my head
I'm holding it back 'til I'm lying in bed
That's when all the walls close in on me

The other side is where I wanna be
Leave your words underneath my feet
Leave these demons that haunt my street
I'll find my way out

What if I never run?
I'm still my father's son
I'll take it all and throw it away
And, if it's all the same
I'll be the one to blame
There'll be no one to stand in my way
And everyone I know is running in circles
It's what you do in this goddamn town

The other side is where I wanna be
Leave your words underneath my feet
Leave these demons that haunt my street
I'll find my way out
And never look back
