

The Heart Never Lies

Michael Martin Murphey

Whenever I trusted my thoughts of love before
They rose like waves and crashed upon the shore
But now I've left my thinking far behind
Had to try to learn to trust my heart and not my mind

Oh, the heart never lies
And in the heart there is no compromise
In the heart, the vision never dies
Oh, the heart never lies

I thought love at first sight was just a song
Thought it was just one night but I was wrong
When we kissed, it lasted a whole life long
I thought I could resist but it went on and on and on

Oh, the heart never lies
And in the heart there is no compromise
In the heart, the vision never dies
Oh, the heart never lies

No, the heart never lies
