

No Guilt

Michael Monroe

I heard the times weren't changin'
They're just catchin' up
Feels like a different season
Everybody's had enough

'Cause some ideas are bulletproof
Opinions ain't the same as truth
And I can hardly sleep at night
From the sirens and flashin' lights

And you stated you know what is right
No guilt
No guilt
And you did it straight in your mind
No guilt
No guilt

I see the old God changin'
Desperate for a breath
Long shadows fall behind us

'Cause you were born to play this part
A revolution from the heart
And I can hardly sleep at night
While the streets keep burning bright

And you stated you know what is right
No guilt
No guilt
And you did it straight in your mind
No guilt
No guilt
Then you bury it all in a lie
No guilt
No guilt

And you stated you know what is right
No guilt
No guilt
And you did it straight in your mind
No guilt
No guilt
Then you bury it all in a lie
No guilt
No guilt
'Til you make your bed in a fire
No guilt
No guilt
