

Long Distance Driver

Michael Nau

Something overdo is right on time
Filling up my heart to the maximum line
Long distance driver back on the reel
Watching for the morning through the crack in the shield
Through overnight repairs and lost time
A minimum yield to the maximum fine
Hoping somewhere you are keeps letting me in
By the time I get there for the first time again

Star on the window light on the lake
The sun is lifting as I'm drifting awake
Through a door in the distance like a hand in a glove
Just to land in your love
Note by note by note by fray by fray
Been going everywhere to get the going to stay
But it feels like the first time it's always been
Every time I get there for the first time again

Long, long distance driver
Long, long distance driver
Long, long distance driver
Long, long distance driver
Long, long distance driver
Long, long distance driver
