

The Queen Of Thorns And Roses

The Michael Schenker Group

Don't get betrayed by the beauty in her eyes
There's a dangerous soul fighting from inside
I thought I could comfort her to stay
But the more that I beg she was leadin' me astray

She used to feel like a little princess
With me fool enough playing a role
Don't want no more fairy - don't want no more stress
24 to 7 in a hole

Now you're gone
And my heart has turned to stone
Still I am sending you roses
The cut is much too deep
And I need a song to bleed
The queen of thorns and roses

The flowers gone, well, I'm ready for the ache
Cinderella is dead, but my heart it's still awake
Her perfume lingers forever in my room
With the scent of her body waiting for the bloom

She used to feel like a little princess
With me fool enough playing a role
Don't want no more fairy - don't want no more stress
24 to 7 in a hole

Now you're gone
And my heart has turned to stone
Still I am sending you roses
The cut is much too deep
And I need a song to bleed
The queen of thorns and roses

Now you're gone
And my heart has turned to stone
Still I am sending you roses

Now you're gone
And my heart has turned to stone
Still I am sending you roses
The cut is much too deep
And I need a song to bleed
The queen of thorns and roses
