

Beautiful Reason

Michael Schulte

I need someone to hold, not just for the weekend
Could you be my beautiful reason?
You could be my beautiful reason
I'm fallin', I'm fallin' again

Love is like a river, rolling away
Reflections in a mirror, fading to grey
Trying to hold on, trying to hold on for life

Whenever I'm with ya, I feel no pain
You're a shimmer in the desert, when it's needing rain
Are you taking me home, taking me home tonight?

Pull my heartstrings
When I'm falling
Lift me off the ground

I need someone to hold, not just for the weekend
Could you be my beautiful reason?
You could be my beautiful reason
I'm fallin', I'm fallin' again
Someone to love, not just for a season
Could you be my beautiful reason?
You could be my beautiful reason
I'm fallin', I'm fallin' again

Beautiful, you could be my
Beautiful, you could be my
Beautiful, you could be my
My beautiful, beautiful reason

You could stay forever, and I wouldn't mind
A picture of a never-ever ending sky
Are you taking me home, taking me home tonight?

You pull my heartstrings
You got me falling
You lift me up
It's true
You take my heartache
You lift me off the ground

I need someone to hold, not just for the weekend
Could you be my beautiful reason?
You could be my beautiful reason
I'm fallin', I'm fallin' again
Someone to love, not just for a season
Could you be my beautiful reason?
You could be my beautiful reason

I'm fallin', I'm fallin' again

Beautiful, you could be my
Beautiful, you could be my
Beautiful, you could be my
My beautiful, beautiful reason

I need someone to hold, not just for the weekend
Could you be my beautiful reason?
You could be my beautiful reason
I'm fallin', I'm fallin' again
Someone to love, not just for a season
Could you be my beautiful reason?
You could be my beautiful reason
I'm fallin', I'm fallin' again
