

Last To Know

Michael Sembello

I saw it coming for a year or so
But I paid it no mind
My friends knew something that I did not know
But then, friends are so kind

A different touch and not as much
Making love impatiently
You tell the world you're not my girl
But there's no [?] telling me

I'm the last to know
Why did I have to be the last to know?
No one's ever gonna tell me
So I guess I'll be the last to know

I'm the last to know
You always said you'll never let me go
No one's ever gonna tell me
So I guess I'll be the last to know

I close my eyes [?] but still you stare
Like I'm not the same
My heart is pounding but no one can hear
Guess it's all in the game

You start to speak, I feel so weak
Every word comes nervously
The final line like poison wine
Now the curtain falls, at last I see

I'm the last to know
Why did I have to be the last to know?
No one's ever gonna tell me
So I guess I'll be the last to know

I'm the last to know
You always said you'll never let me go
No one's ever gonna tell me
So I guess I'll be the last to know

I'll be in pain with a fool's romance
Waiting in vain for a second chance
Hard to believe
A memory is all I'll be

I'm the last to know [?]
I never thought I'd be the last to know (I have to let it go)
No one's ever gonna tell me (tried to tell you)
So I guess I'll be the last to know
