

Not Gonna Follow You Home

Michelle Branch

I could kiss you right now, fall right into the fire
Forget that stupid talk about movin' on
Sneak out of the crowd and let the flames get higher
No one would even know we're gone, no

But I'm not gonna follow you home
I'm gonna say goodnight, go to sleep with the lights on
All I'm seeing is a big mistake
It's just another sound of the same old heartbreak
And we both know where it goes
So I'm not gonna follow you home

And I know if I stay just a little bit longer
You'd push me right over the edge
It's hard enough to have control
And even harder standing this close
This is as close as it's gonna get

But I'm not gonna follow you home
I'm gonna say goodnight, go to sleep with the lights on
All I'm seeing is a big mistake
It's just another sound of the same old heartbreak
And we both know where it goes
So I'm not gonna follow you home

It would be so easy
Just lettin' you hold me
It would be so easy, baby

But I'm not gonna follow you home
I'm gonna say goodnight, go to sleep with the lights on
The lights on, yeah

Cause all I'm seeing is a big mistake
It's just another sound of the same old heartbreak
And we both know where it goes
So I'm not gonna follow you home

Yeah, I'm not gonna follow you home

Cause all I'm seeing is a big mistake
It's just another sound of the same old heartbreak
And we both know where it goes

I could kiss you right now
Fall right into the fire
