

Show Me A Sign

Michelle Branch

I've been wrong, I've been right
I could be anything tonight
I've been hurt, I've been healed
And strung along
I've been scared, I've been brave
Left with nothing else to say
But I won't run away, so I'm moving on Yeah I'm moving on

Just show me a sign, tell me where to go
Let me hear the sound of the wheels on the road
Running for the door, pedal to the floor this time
Walking in my sleep, never knowing why
Looking in your eyes made me see, woke me up
You won't have to change my mind
Just show me a sign

Well I've been lost, but I've found
That whenever you're around
I can always see myself through your eyes
Cause darling you gave me love
When I just wasn't good enough
So I'm here holding on for another night

Just show me a sign, tell me where to go
Let me hear the sound of the wheels on the road
Running for the door, pedal to the floor this time
Walking in my sleep, never knowing why
Looking in your eyes made me see, woke me up
You won't have to change my mind
Just show me a sign

'Cause darling you gave me love
When I just wasn't good enough
So I'm here holding on for another night

Just show me a sign, tell me where to go
Let me hear the sound of the wheels on the road
Running for the door, pedal to the floor this time
Walking in my sleep, never knowing why
Looking in your eyes made me see, woke me up
You won't have to change my mind
Just show me a sign

I've been hurt, I've been healed
But I'm moving on
