

ATL

Michigander

In my mind, there's a place with a basement inside
Next to a rive in Georgia, just outside of Atlanta
And that's where I, want to spend most my life
Until the day that I have to die, or go home with Jesus

You're all I want, You're more than I think I need
Every part of me screams
You're all I want, You're more than enough for me

Hey baby I can see you through your window
Through my rearview mirror
Take a look at your hair cause you're looking real find
I think about you more than I want to, admit sometimes
When I look in your eyes everythings ok

You're all I want, You're more than I think I need
Every part of me screams
You're all I want, You're more than enough for me

Well am I too loud, well am I too loud
I can't shut my mouth, I can't shut my mouth
Well am I too loud, maybe I'm too loud
I can't shut my mouth, I can't shut my mouth, no

You're all I want, You're more than I think I need
Every part of me screams
You're all I want, You're more than enough for me
