

Spitting Image

Michigander

Good morning
I'm fine, how are you? I missed the whole thing
Lost but not confused, I found the feeling
But it's always giving me the runaround

It's boring
Explaining to the friends you've been avoiding
Why everyone you love becomes annoying
And everything you know will let you down
Oh, it'll let you down

Spitting image of somebody I love
Spilled my guts then bottled it up
I can't live without you
Can't live without you
Broken mirrors and wrecking balls
Wonder why I lost it all
I can't live without you
Can't live without you

So hold on
I think I heard you right, so why's it feel wrong?
How long does it take to build the hill you'll die on?
Settled in but didn't settle down
Oh, didn't settle down

Spitting image of somebody I love
Spilled my guts then bottled it up
I can't live without you
Can't live without you
Broken mirrors and wrecking balls
Wonder why I lost it all
I can't live without you
Can't live without you

We can say we tried
We did our best to get it right
I don't wanna try again, again
We can say we tried
We did our best to get it right
I don't wanna try again, again

Spitting images of somebody I love
Spilled my guts then bottled them up
I can't live without you
Can't live without you

Spitting images of somebody I love
Spilled my guts then bottled it up
I can't live without you
Can't live without you
Broken mirrors and wrecking balls
I can't live without you
Can't live without you
