

Right When You Left

Mickey Darling

I said I loved you but you didn't say it back
Don't be so anal know you like it up the ass
Actually on second thought I better take that back
Just in case one day you decide to take me back

Oh my my, you kind of resemble
Someone I used to think was gentle
Wonder why I would always settle
Every time 'cause loving you was mental

If you want me to
Oh I'll say it, oh I'll say it
I'll say it for you
Gladly baby, glad

'Cause baby you were right when you left
And baby you were wise to do that
And maybe you were right and maybe it was wise
'Cause I don't think that I would've left

I wrote some songs about you guess that made you mad
You got pissed off at me and said I'm such an...
A-a-after everything I still wish you would take me back
Even after you let my friends take you to France

Oh my my, you kinda look just like Someone I used to fucking cry for Every night I still wanna die but
Not tonight 'cause leaving you is mental

If you want me to
Oh I'll say it, oh I'll say it
I'll say it for you
Gladly baby, glad

'Cause baby you were right when you left
And baby you were wise to do that
And maybe you were right and maybe it was wise
'Cause I don't think that I would've left

And baby you were right when you left
And baby you were wise to do that
And baby you were right and baby it was wise
'Cause I don't think that I would've left

I feel 17 once again
Breaking another heart for the fuck of it
How could anyone love such a piece of shit
It's all my fault
That I feel 17 once again
Lying right through my teeth like a fucking kid
Saying I didn't cheat when I know I did
It's not your fault

'Cause baby you were right when you left

'Cause baby you were right when you left

And baby you were wise to do that
And maybe you were right and maybe it was wise
'Cause I don't think that I would've left

And baby you were right when you left
And baby you were wise to do that
'Cause baby you were right and baby it was wise
'Cause I don't think that I would've left
