

Here With You

Mickey Guyton

Sometimes the storm just won't blow over
It's like I got the whole damn world up on my shoulders
So pull the blinds, lock the door, babe
'Cause you know it's been a long day
And there's just one place
One peace of mind that I can find

Only when I'm here with you
I can breathe, I can let go
Nothing else matters
Only that I'm here with you
I can feel your heartbeat slow
It's heaven ever after
Only when I'm here with you

Pull the stars down out of that sky
Let the sun burn out, kiss the world goodbye
Everything falls away into the blue
Only when I'm here with you

It's half hundred proof, half holy water
Half burning bed, half Sunday altar
It holds me down, gets me high, babe
It gets me there every time, babe
Only when I'm here with you

I can breathe, I can let go
Nothing else matters
Only that I'm here with you
I can feel your heartbeat slow
It's heaven ever after
Only when I'm here with you

Pull the stars down out of that sky
Let the sun burn out, kiss the world goodbye
Everything falls away into the blue
Only when I'm here with you

Only when I'm here with you
I can breathe, I can let go
Nothing else matters
Only that I'm here with you
I can feel your heartbeat slow
It's heaven ever after
Only when I'm here with you

Pull the stars down out of that sky
Let the sun burn out, kiss the world goodbye
Everything falls away into the blue
Only when I'm here with you
