

Forlorn

Midnattsol

How could I be the one and only How could this be real You said forever but rather never was the bitter-sweet truth

Feel the rain pouring down
Do brightness
No sound
Thistles all around I'm befogged by the mist in the mortal light
So forlorn without you by my side

In my dreams the distance is gone
Earth and heaven are one and the warmth is so strong though no fire burns on
In my dreams you touch my hair saying I am your angel
And by dawn when I awake
you're my angel instead

How can memories Still be so near How can dust be clear
My safety ground
Just ripped away from me
So forlorn out here

See the ravens encircle the barks' blight that enlace the trees tonight Oh I hope and I pray every night
every day
So forlorn
I'm just fading away

In my dreams you touch my hair
saying I am your angel

In my dreams the distance is gone
and the warmth is so strong...

I'm forlorn
I'm so forlorn but I'll be strong I'll be strong
