

Before My Time in Hell

Midnight

Before my time in hell no souls are left to take
Blood from the sky has fell raising the dead awake

Before my time in hell

Before my time to rot staining this sacred ground
Respect for the dead forgot turn all your crosses down

Before my time in hell

Darkness arrives death to dust dust to flames
Flames will arise flesh to burn free from this earth

Before my time to burn songs will be sung in praise
There is no need to mourn triumph of death still plays

Before my time in flames open your legs once more
Flesh against flesh now cold banging on hells black door