

I come back in town on this weekend
On a search for your love, it's what I'm seekin'
We ain't start on good terms, I was misleadin'
But I've been makin' it up to you, yeah, of recent Know I love to see you smile in any pretense
'Cause sometimes, I wanna rearrange the sequence
Wanna rewind time, give you what was right
You're stuck on my mind, on my mind

I can't have a repeat of last night, remember the bad times
Wanna hold you tight and tell you that we'll be fine
Don't know if I'm right, I'm just prayin' at this point
You knocked me off my server and I can't seem to rejoin
You're jammin' all the signals I been tryna send to you
But I just wanna tell you that I'm not expendin' you
I want the minutes and the seconds to not end with you
Let's drop the mask and drop the act, know you're pretendin' to Let me in, don't hide it
Want the best for you, you know I get excited
If I'm tellin' the truth, I value all your guidance
I know that I want you, that's what I been decided

It feels like I've been alone for a long ass time
For a long ass time, I, I been workin' on my tone
I know I'll be fine, I been workin' on mines
At my best when I'm alone, but I been tryin', I am
I been tryin', I am, not the same kid as before
You been pryin' at me, pryin' at me
