

Oh, you swear you love me? Girl, you need to prove it
Got no one to run to, all this shit confusing
Can't nobody trust you, ego needs some bruising
I know that you want me, but beggars can't be choosing

I know what you're thinking, I know
Every time you leave me alone
I could use a warning (Yeah, yeah)
Before you stop adoring (Yeah, yeah)
I know what you're dreaming, I know
Every time we're sleeping alone
I could use a warning (Yeah, yeah)
Broke the news in the morning (Yeah, yeah)

And I best use some caution
Do you get like this often?
Seen your texts in my phone, the last nail in the coffin
Say you're right when you're wrong
You been grinding my bones
Said you're leaving my life, so you best get to walking
Had me in a rut
Didn't mean to fall in love, but girl, you got me stuck
Thought we were doing well, but I had to fuck it up
Thought we were growing up, but now you're the one who's stunted

Oh, you swear you love me? Girl, you need to prove it
Got no one to run to, all this shit confusing
Can't nobody trust you, ego needs some bruising
I know that you want me, but beggars can't be choosing

Broke the news in the morning (Yeah, yeah)

Bedside
We made love and then I found out 'bout your bad side
All the sudden made me out to be a bad guy
Maybe this shit would've worked out in a past life (In a past life)
But I guess we'll never know
Only wanna be there for the highs and not the lows
Only tryna put on for the 'Gram and wear my clothes
I'd rather be in solitude and suffer on my own

I know what you're thinking, I know
Every time you leave me alone
I could use a warning (Yeah, yeah)
Before you stop adoring (Yeah, yeah)
I know what you're dreaming, I know
