

Forgive & Forget

Mighty Oaks

I never thought this day would come
When the life we built would come undone
And I've been through hell but the hardest part
Is that I can't let go of my heavy heart

I've been trying
Trying to forgive it, trying to forget it
But it takes time
Time to forgive it, time to forget it
We crossed a line
Oh did you mean it, I still regret it
After all this time
After all this time

And for how I try I still don't know
Where to turn or which way I should go
And I've been through hell trying to find a way
To forgive the things that I can't change

And I've been trying
Trying to forgive it, trying to forget it
But it takes time
Time to forgive it, time to forget it
We crossed a line
Oh did you mean it, I still regret it
After all this time
After all this time

All the weight I'm carrying like a ball and chain around my heavy heart

I've been trying
Trying to forgive it, trying to forget it
But it takes time
Time to forgive it, time to forget it
We crossed a line
Oh did you mean it, I still regret it
After all this time
After all this time
After all this time
After all this time
