Heavy

Mighty Oaks

Back her up now it's time to go
We're headed east for Idaho
Over the mountains past Coeur d'Alene
See it lies west now about a day

I fear, I fear that things are getting heavy now
My dear, my dear, I fear we might be spinning out
So let's be clear before we let it go
I need you here to keep me young

The old Snake River it winds and winds
We're driving now 'cause we got the time
And the people that we meet are scared as hell
But what future holds I am as well

I fear, I fear that things are getting heavy now
My dear, my dear, I fear we might be spinning out
So let's be clear before we let it go
I need you here to keep me young
