Child

Miguel Bosé

When you were born into this world Your mom and dad saw a dream fulfilled Dream come true, the answer to their prayers

The world to them was a special child They even enjoy every time you smile It's time to cry They're at your side again

Child you don't know, you'll never know How far they'd go to give you All their love can give

To see you through, and God it's true They'd die for you, if they must To see you live

Many seasons came and went So many years have now been spent For time ran fast and now at last you're strong

Now what is scattered over you? You seem to hate your parents, too Speak out your mind Why do you find them wrong?

Child you don't know, you'll never know How far they'd go to give you All their love can give

To see you through, and God it's true They'd die for you, if they must To see you live

And now your path has gone astray Child you ain't sure what to do or say You're so alone, no friends are on your side

And child, you now break down in tears Let them drive away your fears You must to go Their arms stay open wide

Child you don't know, you'll never know How far they'd go to give you All their love can give

To see you through, and God it's true They'd die for you, if they must To see you live

To see you through, and God it's true They'd die for you, if they must To see you live

To see you through, and God it's true They'd die for you, if they must
