She lied to me I don't get it, I'm not letting it go I can't get through anymore, not this time She cheated me Of all my senses up against it this time I can't fight anymore, not this time Falling I'm falling Sooner or later there'll be nothing out there All that I believe in Spinning around me it don't make no sense And I'm falling I'm falling Sooner or later there'll be nobody left Calling I'm calling Somebody stop me falling off the edge of this life What does it take? Someone hear me, listen clearly I'm done She broke my heart in her hand and was gone Can I get through, tell me I'm in free fall down And I can't stop now it's not right She turned my soul out and left me undone Falling I'm falling Sooner or later there'll be nothing out there All that I believe in Spinning around me it don't make any sense now Falling I'm falling Sooner or later there'll be nobody left Calling I'm calling Somebody stop me falling in and out of this life Falling I'm falling Sooner or later there'll be nothing out there All that I believe in Spinning around me it don't make any sense now Falling I'm falling Sooner or later there'll be nobody left Calling I'm calling

Somebody stop me falling off the edge of this life
