

Exile

Mike G

In my house, come as you are we get the problem solved
Do right, do something for everyone involved
You must, have Midas touch when things get rough
Never give up, although they'll never have enough
You're complex, so no matter what you do next
Your all is everything you possess so show no less
You the best around, wear the crown, show no hurt
Gift or a curse but you still make this work
Hardly threatened cause a kings spot is properly reserved
The best do different kind of work
We don't stress, we observe
You should listen when we speak because there's power in our words
Some don't deserve this knowledge that comes from time served

You could rule as far as eyes could see
You can be who you wanna be on your journey
The way I'm going off it seems hard to believe that
I don't own it all but it's everything to me
You could rule as far as eyes could see
You can be who you wanna be on your journey
I don't own it all but it's everything to me
I don't know it all but I know what's made for me

Make the sacrifice to do what's right, not just what you like
Cause most can't pay that price
At times you feel helpless, world so selfish
Thinking of the times when you didn't need nobody's help
Do what you want, you get what you can
But stay so grand, and unmoved
Don't let words change how you stand
In this place, one is enough
If there's competition, tell them they have no chance
But good luck
Angels sing when my name rings, I could combat the devil
If ever there was such a thing
My presence shining, holding my team support beams
Saying things to have my people, scream from the rafters
Can't hear the hate through the rings of joyous laughter
Bow to the master, we cruise through disaster
Without it, you have no reason to defend
How real is this, I have no reason to pretend
It's like painting with colors that just don't blend
You try your hardest but it seems like you just can't win
People ask me if I know what I've gotten my self in Audio affection my heart, bleed through the pin
You know me, show lights excite till crowds can't see
And you can spend your time hoping, it won't help you achieve
I'll be more than anyone of you could ever see in me
Every word I say, believe
We're all kings and queens

You could rule as far as eyes could see
You can be who you wanna be on your journey
The way I'm going off it seems hard to believe that
I don't own it all but it's everything to me
You could rule as far as eyes could see
You can be who you wanna be on your journey

I don't own it all but it's everything to me
I don't know it all but I know what's made for me

And my days start out so crazy
I don't sleep cause there's too much to be missed
And as soon as I leave, they'll try their best to replace me
And I'm still like this, what a to exist
If it easy then
People will ask for more so I never give
If you're weak, they will insist as long as you resist
You can't run for this spot and in this I never hide
As I do it for the women and kids long live
