

Heaven

Mike Posner

To the families of the December 14th tragedy

Today, we shed our tear for you
Tomorrow, we do it all again
They say that time will make it better
I think about what could have been
Still, I believe that there's whole lot of good people
I believe that there's a life
I believe in more than things I can see my love
And I know this isn't right

But may be this will make sense in heaven
And I will understand why you gone
But may be this will make sense in heaven
Coz right now it doesn't make sense at all
Today, my prayers are in the sky
Tomorrow, they'll still be there for you
They say, that time will make it better
Now I hope that what they say is true

Coz I believe that there's whole lot of good people
And I believe that there's a life
And I believe in more than things I can see my love
And I know this isn't right

But may be this will make sense in heaven
And I'll understand why you gone
But may be this will make sense in heaven
Coz right now it don't make sense at all
Right now, it don't make sense at all
