Yeah, okay

Maybe this a simulation, maybe me and you can stick together
Maybe this is something different now
Maybe this is just whatever, maybe we could just reset the clocks
Before it rained on the flame burning in your eyes
Can't pick a side, we ripped apart all we, all we got
From cinder blocks we build it up, way up to the top
Just to watch it all crash and burn
But I guess one way we had to learn, yeah

And if I lose myself, you can find me
Just running round the town, yeah
And if I lose myself, you can find me
Downtown, downtown
And if I lose myself, you can find me
Swimming in this liquor till I drown
And if I lose myself, you can find me
Downtown, yeah

Move fast, gone like the wind (and you can find me)
Swimming in sin under the bridge (and if you wanted)
Don't wanna get under your skin, but hey
I could pick a part and tell ya
Say it again, say it again (and if you're tryna)
Tell me the things I'm trying to hear (and if you wanna)
Don't wanna feel, don't wanna feel a thing
I could pick a part and tell ya

I feel like, I feel like, I feel like someone else
Even when I'm in the room, I'm feeling somewhere else
Living hell, something always going down
Why's it so goddamn hard to be myself?
Switching lanes, different day, it's all the same
Third degree, it burns deep inside my veins
You feel the pain in every single word I'm saying
Yeah, I could pick a part and tell ya

And if I lose myself, you can find me
Just running round the town, yeah
And if I lose myself, you can find me
Downtown, downtown
And if I lose myself, you can find me
Swimming in this liquor till I drown
And if I lose myself, you can find me
Downtown, yeah

Move fast, gone like the wind (and you can find me)
Swimming in sin under the bridge (and if you wanted)
Don't wanna get under your skin, but hey
I could pick a part and tell ya
Say it again, say it again (and if you're tryna)
Tell me the things I'm trying to hear (and if you wanna)
Don't wanna feel, don't wanna feel a thing
I could pick a part and tell ya

Yeah
