We've both said a lot of things that you're going to regret
Black Power

It's hard to take love as it is, or love as it was
When it was it was sick, when it wasn't it was tough
When it's blood it be thick so with Mother I was stuck
But with bud I be quick
I tried to make a run but I slipped
Ugh, it's hard to take love as it is, or love as it was
When it was it was sick, when it wasn't it was tough
When it's blood it be thick so with Mother I was stuck
But with bud I be quick
I tried to make a run but I slipped
Ugh, it's hard to take love as it is, or love as it was
When it was it was sick, when it wasn't it was tough
When it's blood it be thick so with Mother I was stuck
But with bud I be quick
I tried to make a run but I slipped
It's hard to take love as it is, or love as it was

Ugh, there's some decisions that ain't deserve the second thought that I gave
Some of these feelings tarnished, something systems taught me to wait
I hear them whispers calling, smoke to burn them off from my face
You play the victim often, verses getting lost in my brain
I just be sitting stalling, worst is when my heart ain't engaged
Too many winners falling, too many bigger causes
Chirping, it be calling my name, and it be bitter talking
Hurtin' 'cause they walking in shame, they know who hit the hardest
You know who sweat, bleed, and cry gon' get regardless
And use his pen to sharpen

It's hard to take love as it is, or love as it was
When it was it was sick, when it wasn't it was tough
When it's blood it be thick so with Mother I was stuck
But with bud I be quick
I tried to make a run but I slipped
Ugh, it's hard to take love as it is, or love as it was
When it was it was sick, when it wasn't it was tough
When it's blood it be thick so with Mother I was stuck
But with bud I be quick

I tried to make a run but I slipped
